Program for the Celebration.

The following program for the Fourth of July celebration has been arranged by the committee at the Opera House:

A consump-tive, hope-sand hope, but a time comes when hope ends, and the black shadow of despair forecasts the coming of death. Thousands of consumptives believe that there is "nothing much the trouble and that there is no need to bother with medicine." Both are wrong. Consumption is the most deadly of diseases but it is distinctly curable. It has its inception, like all other wasting diseases, in disorders of the digestive organs, and the first step towards its cure must be the relief of these disorders.

Ninety-eight per cent. of all cases of consumption are cured by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Thousands of consumptives have testified to their complete and permanent recovery through its use, after they were given up by the doctors and all hope was gone. It corrects all disorders of the digestion, makes assimilation perfect, fills the blood with the life-giving elements that build up new, firm and healthy tissues, and acting directly upon the lungs drives out all disease germs. It is a specific for all lingering, bronchial, throat and lung affections.

"I have been troubled with indigestion and dyspepsia," writes Geo. H. Slater, Esq., of Yates City, Kan., Co. Ill., "for the last two years. I got a bottle of your 'Golden Medical Discovery' and took it as you directed. It did me so much good I am going to get another bottle and take it. It is the best medicine in the world for those who have stomach trouble. I have recommended it to several already."

"The best medical book ever published in any language is Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. Over 600,000 copies of this book have been sold for $1.50 each. It contains 1,000 pages and 300 illustrations. It gives suggestions for treatment of all ailments. There are also prescriptions. This valuable book, in paper binding, may now be had FREE for the asking. Send 21 one-cent stamps to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., to pay the cost of mailing only. If fine cloth binding is desired, send 10 cents extra, 31 cents in all."

following prizes have been offered: Best decorated wheel or wheels, $6; best decorated single gent's, first prize, $6, second, $4; best decorated lady's, first prize, $6, second, $4; best decorated boy's, $2 50, and girl's, $2 50; most comical and original $5.

The Horrible parade will be a fantastic and comical feature, and those desiring to take part will leave their names with R. O. Leeper.

Progress' Barometer.

"Hum! This town is getting more lively. Things are looking up," he remarked as the train stopped at a small town in Mississippi.

"How do you make that out?"

"See the crowd of loafers near the station?"

"Yes."

"They are the barometer of progress. When I used to go through here ten years ago, the whole town would loaf the livelong day at the little station. No one can appreciate what real, genuine bona-fide loafing is unless he has been in certain parts of the south. We use the word in the north, I believe, but it loses its significance when imported from the torrid climates to our northern air. Loafing means in the south too lazy to think, too lazy to speak, too lazy to stand. I say this town has progressed because you will observe that not more than half the inhabitants are loafing in the vicinity of the station."

Detroit Free Press.

TRUST IN THE SENATOR.

A Constituent Who Relied Upon His Representative.

"Hope springs eternal in the human breast," even if it be the breast of a pessimist as apprehensive as Senator Hale's constituent, of whom the following story is told by the Washington correspondent of the New York Tribune:

A local lawyer of some prominence, who spends his summers at Castine, on the coast of Maine, says he was much entertained by one of the skip-pers living in that town whom he frequently hired to take him out fishing.

This worthy was possessed of unusual intelligence, a pretty wit, and had a creditable knowledge of current politics, but he took a pessimistic view of the state of the country.

On the money question he had thought long and deeply, and had developed a system of his own for carrying on the financial affairs of the nation. He had eccentric and original views on the civil service, and in regard to foreign matters he outjinged the jingoes.

The ideas and views of this fisherman were so radically opposed to the ideas and views of the man who represents that region in the senate that it was an invariable surprise to the visiting lawyer when he wound up his remarks, as he always did:

"Well, they ain't no sorter use in botherin' my head 'bout these things, fer ez long ez 'Gene Hale is in the senate he'll save the country from goin' ter the dogs!"

POINTS OF INTEREST.

The Two-Starred Flag on the Governor's Island Flag.

The president of the United States has this very gorgeous flag; the secretary of the navy and the assistant secretary have their flags; admirals have theirs, and so do commodores; but it isn't known very widely, perhaps, that 'generals of the army also have flags, which are hoisted sometimes, says the New York Sun. The other day the Governor's Island tug left the landing at the Battery with a little blue flag on her center flagstaff; on the blue field of the flag were two white stars. The major general commanding the department of the east was on the tug, and the little blue flag signalled the fact to all who saw it and knew what it meant. To those who didn't know what it meant, it seemed as if the flag was simply the remains of a full-sized American flag, the rest of which had been blown away during its faithful service. The flag gave warning to the Governor's Islanders that the general was coming, and so let them prepare to receive him as regulations prescribe.

The blue flag with white stars hoisted at the bow of one of our men-of-war when in port is the jack, and is run up on the jack staff. It is a sign that the vessel is in shipshape. When the ship's wash goes up to dry, the jack comes down, because not even the best of ships is in order with the wash flapping in the breeze. If the wash is up, and the vessel suddenly has to fire a salute, down comes the wash; because a vessel with its wash up isn't in a condition to do the polite. As soon as the wash is hauled down, up goes the jack, and the salute is fired. Then down comes the jack, and up goes the wash again.

OHIO SILVER MEN.

The silver Democrats of Ohio in State convention adopted a platform and nominated a ticket which is promised the support of all who believe in rescuing the government from the trusts and plutocrats. The platform declares that the demonization of silver has resulted in the appreciation of gold, the depreciation of the prices of commodities produced by the people, a heavy increase in the burden of all debts, public and private, as well as of taxation, the prostration of industry and the impoverishment of the people. It opposes monometallism and demands the free and unlimited coinage of both gold and silver at the legal ratio of 16 to 1, without waiting for the action or consent of any other nation. It demands that the standard silver dollar shall be a full legal tender with gold for all debts, and legislation that will prevent in the future the demonization of any kind of legal tender money by private contract. It opposes the policy and practice of surrendering to the holders of obligations of the United States the option reserved by law to the government of redeeming such obligations in silver or gold coin. It declares that Congress alone has the power to coin and issue money and that President Jackson declared that this power could not be delegated to corporations or individuals. It declares that all trusts and monopolies are hostile and dangerous to the people's interests and a standing menace to the perpetuity of our free institutions.

A party advocating such principles, and giving assurances by the character of its nominees that it will carry them into effect, deserves the support of every citizen who believes in the financial independence of the United States and that our government should be conducted in the interest of the whole people, not for the benefit of the favored few.

But the task of deposing Mr. Hanna in Ohio is no easy one. He is supported by every national bank, every trust, every monopoly, and every protected industry in the State. He has unlimited means at his disposal and he knows where to place money so that it will do the most good. He has already transferred his headquarters from Washington to Cleveland, so as to be on the battleground, and has the whole power and patronage of the administration. To defeat him and rescue the State from his grasp the people must work hard and work together, until the last vote in the ballot box on election day, and then see that the ballots are correctly counted and the returns properly made.

Quite recently the attention of the public has been called to the extended use of glass in commerce and manufactures. Glass is now being used in numerous cases to supersede the baser metals in articles which require durability and permanency. In Switzerland the Government has taken up the idea and has caused all its weights and measures to be made of a glass of peculiar toughness and elasticity. In England some genius has proposed the use of glass for statues and other things which are exposed to the inclemency of the weather. At the present time the glass industry offers an extensive field and large inducements to the inventive genius of American artisans, and it is to be hoped that the ensuing year will show a decided advance in that line.

The Supreme Court of California has, in a recent decision, upheld the State inheritance tax, by which a tax of five per cent is levied on all inheritances out of the direct line exceeding five hundred dollars. It grounded its decision on the fact that the tax was not a tax on real estate but a tax on the right to inherit and consequently did not contravene the clause of the Constitution, which prohibits any tax on real estate except one based on its valuation. The inheritance tax is a just and equitable one, for it tends to relieve the burden of taxation from the rest of the community and at the same time does no injustice to the inheritor, since the latter has done nothing to merit his good fortune.

The Gold Creek Mining Company has made application at the United States Land Office for twenty-nine patents for placer mines. The patents cover 4,480 acres, which at $2 50 per acre will cost $11,200. The Government charges $2 50 per acre for placer ground and $5 per acre for quartz claims. The Gold Creek Company will have a whole territory to itself and if its mines are one-half as rich as reported they will add several millions to the gold product of the country. At any rate Uncle Sam will be $11,000 gainer by the operation.

People are asking why the prefix "Honorable" is not placed before the name of William J. Bryan. The reason is obvious. Like Washington, Jefferson, Jackson and Lincoln, Bryan is a statesman, a perfect man, complete in himself. It would detract from the dignity of such men to put a prefix to their names, as it would from a complete building to erect an addition thereto.

The best of liniments is Trib.

TELEGRAPHIC NOTES.

Trains bearing Christian Endeavor excursionists rolled into Denver almost all day yesterday. Special trains were dispatched around the famous "loop" in the mountains. Twenty special trains were dispatched over the Denver & Rio Grande yesterday and fifty-two will be sent out to-day westward bound. It is the desire of the Endeavorers to reach Salt Lake on Sunday morning in time to attend services in the Mormon Tabernacle. It is said that the task of the Southern Pacific in handling the traffic is the greatest of all the roads and is being watched with great interest by transportation men.

Rev. Hugh Johnson in the Senate yesterday referred in his prayer to the near approach of the completion of the tariff bill. Immediately after the prayer the consideration of the tariff bill was taken up. Teller stated that it had been reported about the chamber that an anti-trust amendment would be offered and he argued that it be presented before the last moment. The House adjourned until Monday, after an attack by Settle of Kentucky on the power of the House to adjourn. He arraigned the Republicans for not acting on the Cuban question.

Five men were injured yesterday morning by the explosion of a locomotive on the Chicago & Northern Pacific railway at Chicago. The train was an early morning express consisting of five coaches filled with passengers. The explosion was heard a distance of four miles and the engineer and fireman were thrown fifty feet. The coaches were thrown back with force enough to knock passengers from their seats.

The wife and five children of John Stephens of Belmont, Ind., are believed to have been poisoned. On last Monday the mother and children were taken suddenly ill and shortly after an infant died. The next day a four-year-old boy died and yesterday the mother and a six-year-old boy died. Two little girls are dangerously ill. Physicians thought the trouble was flux, but it is believed now they were poisoned. An investigation will be had.

O. M. Wellborn, the deposed Collector of Internal Revenue for San Francisco district, cannot be found, notwithstanding a warrant has been issued for him. While it is generally believed he is in hiding in the city, some think he has followed the example of his deputy, Isaac Norton, and committed suicide.

Miss Constance McKenzie, a white woman, daughter of Dr. R. S. McKenzie of Philadelphia, was married at her parents' residence yesterday to John S. Durham, who enjoys the distinction of being one of the first colored men who graduated from the University of Pennsylvania.

Tom Watson is heard from again at Atlanta and charges that the fusionists have entered a compact to deliver the Populist vote to the Democrats in November for $1,500 recently contributed to the Populist fund by Mr. Bryan out of the proceeds of the sales of his book.

Five Indians including a chief died in Minnesota and more are expected to die as a result of drinking rankiller hair oil and other preparations containing alcohol. The Indians throughout the country are enraged as they believe the poisoning was intentional.

Mrs. Mack of Independence, Kansas, has been arrested and placed in jail at Muskogee, T., charged with complicity in the murder of her husband, Joel O. Mack, whose mutilated body was found near Bartlettville six months ago. Mack was a prominent man.

The papers in the appeal of W. H. T. Durrant were received by the Clerk of the United States Supreme Court at Washington yesterday. The Supreme Court will not sit until October 12th, and the appeal cannot be argued before that date.

Theodore Figel was arraigned in court before Judge Campbell yesterday and charges of forgery and embezzlement were filed against him. Bail was refused on the murder charge and the prisoner was remanded to jail.

The eruption of the Mayon volcano in the Philippine islands destroyed 120 of the inhabitants of the village Libayo. The volcano has been comparatively extinct for 280 years.

Miss Mary Julia Baldwin, Principal of the Mary Baldwin Seminary and a distinguished educator of young ladies, died at Staunton, Va., yesterday.

The Bannock Indian trouble in Idaho has been greatly exaggerated. Dispatches state that there is little basis for the alarm.

Teachers' Examination.

A teachers' examination will be held on Monday, the 12th of July, 1897, at the Reno High School building commencing at 9 o'clock A. M. Applicants for certificates will present themselves promptly. For information concerning the rules or the details of the examination apply to T. V. JULEN, 171-1w* County Superintendent.

Justice Court.

Irene Sullivan, who goes by the name of "Black and Tan," had her preliminary examination before Justice Linn yesterday afternoon for cutting Albert Hoffman on June 23rd. She was bound over to appear before the Grand Jury with bail fixed at $500.

THEODORE FIGEL, who was arrested upon several warrants charging him with embezzlement, and admitted to bail, has been arrested for murder and denied bail. He became exceedingly nervous when looked up, and asked that he be not left alone.

THE COURT WAS THIRSTY.

So It Overruled the Supreme Court and Bought Itself a Drink.

Just as Shakespeare has been accepted for years and years as the deciding umpire in most matters literary, so the Nebraska people had grown to look upon the Supreme Court of their state as the fountain head of wisdom, whose opinions could not be gainsaid. It is a way people have of regarding supreme courts in most states, as a matter of fact.

William Alstadt, a little German, whose readiest identification among his people was by the name of "Bismarck," was not one who cared overmuch for tradition, and one summer day, after having been harangued by two lawyers until he was almost bursting with thirst, he made a decision which brought him fame. It does not make any special difference what was the question at issue. It was something about a dog. There was a sensible side to it and a technical side. The "technical" lawyer presented bushels and tons of authorities, and finally wound up with a triumphant declaration that the supreme court had decided on a similar case before and had decided his way.

When he sat down, Bismarck, with a sigh of relief, said, "I decide for the older fellow. Come on, boys, let's take a drink."

"But," cried the defeated lawyer, in astonishment, "I tell you, your honor, that the supreme court has decided exactly opposite."

"My friend," said Bismarck, "in shemeral I had some sympathies with dot subreme court. But on a hot day, with a fool of a lawyer dalkin' four hours, I am moved to consult der good sense and shudgment of Bill Alstadt, J. P. Bill Alstadt is not only convinced, but he is thirsty, and he decides that if der subreme court of Nebraska wants to make a tam fool off itself in a question like dis it can do so, but dot aint binding on dis shustice shop. Der subreme court is hereby overruled. Der plaintiff gits fer dog, and der court will now broceed to spend der fees in dis case in a way dot his shudicial thirst suggests, mit great gordiality. Come on, boys."

Thus it was that the supreme court was overruled, and as a plain statement of fact Justice Bill Alstadt's decision has always been followed in similar cases brought in Nebraska tribunals. In the same way the half true Shakespearean sucking dove theory is susceptible of revision or reversal.—Chicago Record.

Orange Dessert.

A pretty manner of serving oranges for a dessert is thus: Peel the oranges down to the stem end; leave a tiny piece of skin there. Remove the white part, which has a bitter taste, from half the peels and with sharp scissors cut into shreds. For half a dozen oranges take 1½ teaspoonfuls of water and pour it over the shredded rind. Add 1½ cupfuls of granulated sugar and boil until it is a jellied sirup. Separate the oranges into small sections, leaving them fastened together at the stem end, and starting from the lower part of the orange to separate the pieces. Arrange them upon a flat dish; then, by spoonfuls, slowly pour the liquid jelly over the fruit. Let them become perfectly cold before serving.—Boston Globe.

Uses for Old Tablecloths.

Old and worn tablecloths may be cut into large napkins which will serve several useful purposes besides the rather extravagant one of glass towels. They may be used for tray or stand covers in a sick room, for cloths in which to wrap hot bread or cake or for some other of the numerous offices to which the prudent housewife is reluctant to relegate her old table napery.—N. Y. Post.

Mrs. Y.—"My daughter is a promising musician." Mrs. C.—"Well, get her to promise that she won't sing any more."—Yonkers Statesman.

Her Prudence.—He—"You insist on my getting my life insured before we are engaged?" She—"Yes; even before you ask papa."—Harlem Life.

Too Hasty.—He—"I made a fool of myself in the first engagement ring I ever bought." She—"Didn't it fit?" He—"Don't know. She wouldn't try it on!"—Chicago Record.

"What have you against this hotel?" thundered the landlord. "Almost everything is 'extra' except the meals. They're the worst I ever contended with!"—Detroit Free Press.

A GLAD PROSPECT.

When Nations Will Wage War in Gentleness, War.

Derringer Dan laid down the publication which chance had thrown in his way, and gazed pensively afar. He was so oblivious to his surroundings that an invitation to refreshments passed wholly unnoticed. It was the resentment occasioned by his seeming discourtesy that brought him to earth again. His apologies were profuse.

"It wouldn't of occurred," he explained, "if I hadn't of happened to get literary. I've heard it said that literary folks is always absent-minded, an' sence my brain drawed a bead on that article I kin understand what makes 'em so."

"It must have been a powerful fascinating yarn," commented Plute Pete.

"Twasn't no yarn whatsoever," was the reply. "It was the truth."

"What was it about?"

"War."

"I've got no use fur it," exclaimed Three-Finger Sam. "Of course, sereclity hez got ter be pre-tected. Gettin' the dots on a man for horse stealin' an' hitchin' him to a tree so's he won't wander around and do it no more is a justifiable proceedin'. But war is promiscuous an' brutal. This thing o' blowin' away at somebody ye never was even introduced to is, to say the least of it, downright onsoociable."

"The trouble is," said Derringer Dan, "that us fellers was born too soon. There ain't no doubt that war, as practiced up to the present time, is a mighty low-down coyote game o' gettin' the drop on a total stranger. But civilization is advancin', an' in the course o' time it'll be jes' as purty a sport as furo bank or draw poker. The scheme, as it now stands, is to see which side kin do the most killin'. An' as soon as one general gits convinced that the other feller kin slay more people than he kin, common sense compels him to lay down and wait fur another deal."

"That's one o' the most scholarly descriptions I ever heard," remarked Broncho Bob, admiringly.

"These here inventors has, accordin' to that article, set themselves to work to improve the implements of battle, so there won't be no chance of escape when they once git in motion an' no limit to their capaxity."

"Seems to me that's goin' ter make war wuss'n ever," observed Bartlesnake Pete.

"That's what I thought. But the article says as how it's goin' to result in makin' war so deadly that nobody'll have anything to do with it."

"It's a fairy story," said Plute Pete, positively. "It's easy enough to whitte a few chips off a lead pencil an' sit down an' finger them things out. But I'll bet anythin' I've got thet there's goin' to be misunderstandin's between different branches of the human race right along to the end o' time."

"No one says there won't be. But they'll be settled in a more gentlemanly way. As fur as I kin make out, the battle of the future will be kerried on in something like this fashion: The opposin' forces will hustle around an' provide themselves with all the destructive engines they kin lay hands on."

"Won't there be no soldiers?"

"Certain. Let's 'spose, fur instance, thet the United States has a war with Spain. The two generals gits together, an' the United States general he puts a certain number of men into the field. Then the Spanish general he has a feller play a tune on the cornet an' sashay out to bring an equal number of men into the field, remarkin', as is customary on such occasions: 'I call ye, Or, if he hez the grit, he kin bring out a still greater number of men, in which event he will say: 'I see ye an' name ye, or words to that effect. Finally it comes to a show-down, an' the United States general says: 'What ye got?' The Spanish general, who, like as not has been bluffin', looks worried, an' says: 'I ain't got nothin' but a pair o' 16-inch guns, with cellulose armor, an' the side.' 'I've got that beat easy,' says the United States general. 'I've got three litchikiss guns an' two torped' boats.' Then the Spanish general, as he says: 'That's good,' an' turns out, as much of his army as he kin, and risk on the deal, an' goes off to take another stake. Of course, it'll take some time to regulate the exact value of the hands and readjust the rule, so's to make 'em fit the occasions as they come up. But it's goin' to be a mighty fine game, and I only wish I could sit into it!"—Washington Star.

BREVITIES.

Water pipe laid cheap by Lange & Schmitt.
Screen doors and windows at Lange & Schmitt's.

H. B. Rule was a passenger for Lovelock yesterday morning.

A clean strong wholesome liniment, Trib fulfills all promises.

Only the truth has been told of Trib. That is why people trust it.

No "magic" about Trib—no witchcraft. It is just a liniment, but supreme.

H. V. Pease, the mail contractor, was a passenger for Amodeo yesterday morning.

Fresh vegetables, fruit, etc., every day at J. H. Upson's opposite Washoe County Bank.

Wanted at once, one hundred men to unload schooners at the Louvre at 5 cents per schooner.

Read the 50 cent ad for furnished rooms for housekeeping or single rooms also a barn for rent.

Mr. A. H. Barnes was thought to be a little better yesterday, but he is still in a very dangerous condition.

Don't neglect giving your name to R. C. Leeper if you intend to take part in the horrible parade on Monday.

Refrigerators, icecream freezers, garden hose, lawn mowers, the best and cheapest at Lange & Schmitt's.

Lovelocks is going to have a big celebration on the fourth. Mr. McKay has made a fine flag-pole for use there.

The funeral of the late Rufus Troop Leete took place from the residence of his brother, B. F. Lette, yesterday afternoon.

The School Trustees of Carson have retained all of the teachers that served last year and general satisfaction is expressed.

Hon. J. R. Ryan arrived from Virginia last evening and will go to Wadsworth this morning to meet Hon. W. J. Bryan, who will arrive this evening.

Skyrockets, Roman candles, electric torches, lamps, topknots and a large variety of fireworks at Becker's Model. Call early and make your selections.

Donnels & Steinmetz have a splendid line of carpets, floor rugs and matings which they are offering at prices astonishingly low, also window shades of all kinds.

Donnels & Steinmetz are agents for the new Wheel & Wilson ball bearing sewing machines, which they sell at San Francisco prices. Don't fail to see them.

The Enterprise reports that a large number of people from the Comstock will arrive here this evening to listen to Bryan. A band will accompany the delegation.

Rhue & Midouir have a lot of leaf lard in 5-pound cans at 65 cents, 10-pound cans at $1.25. The best of beef, mutton, veal, pork and lamb always on hand.

Mrs. Bennett Pryor, formerly a resident of Reno, but now of Colusa, California, has been visiting Reno relatives for some weeks. She will leave for San Francisco Saturday.

Hon. M. S. Bonfield, Associate Justice, arrived on the V. & T. last evening and left for Winnemucca, where he will meet and return to this point with Mr. Bryan.

Josh Laws one of the early proprietors of the Journal, has been attending on his father-in-law, A. H. Barnes, who is seriously ill. Mr. Laws expects to return to California this evening.

According to reports from Carson and Virginia City there will be large delegations from both places this evening to hear William J. Bryan. Quite a number of ladies are coming from both cities.

The Corona Baseball Team of this city left for Loyalton yesterday morning, where they will enter a baseball tournament with seven other teams for a prize of $100. It is believed the boys will carry off the prize.

Call at Muller & Stumpf's Pabst agency for fine California and imported wines for family and medicinal purposes. Sherry, port, muscatel, angelica and all dry wines by the gallon. Open every day until 7 o'clock.

A. Nelson will sacrifice his stock of furnishing goods in order to make room for new goods. Now is the time to get bargains. Call at his store on Virginia street. Free employment office connected with the store.

The exhibition at the Indian School at Carson on Wednesday is reported as surpassing any previous efforts of the pupils. The school work was particularly interesting and many of the children showed a marked talent in drawing and music.

Mr. Ryan, Chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, estimates that over two hundred people will arrive here from Virginia this evening and nearly as many from Carson. They propose giving Bryan a rousing welcome.

If you want a nice genteel suit for the Fourth of July or any other time call at E. Lator's, the "bon ton" tailor, on Commercial Row. He is offering one hundred suits at cost in order to clear out his stock. He has a full line of furnishing goods, hats, caps, trunks and valises. Read his new advertisement in another column.

Details of the Death of John Gooding.
Jacob Gooding of this city received a telegram late Wednesday evening announcing the death of his brother John of Austin, at West Chicago at an early hour Wednesday morning while enroute home from a visit to Wisconsin relatives.

The telegram was from Fondulac Wis. and stated that Mr. Gooding and his wife had started for their Nevada home on one of the excursion trains. At the time of the accident, Mr. and Mrs. Gooding were in their berths in the rear sleeper which was crashed into by the engine of the section of the train which was closely following theirs. Mr. Gooding's breast was crushed in and he was killed instantly. Mrs. Gooding escaped uninjured.

Two others in the car were killed and a number of the passengers more or less seriously injured.

Mr. John Gooding located in Reese River Valley, Nye County in the spring of 1889, and has been a resident of Nevada ever since and was elected to the Legislature from Nye County in 1890.

He leaves a wife and a large family of children viz Mrs. Mamie Deringer, Mrs. Fannie Smalling residents of eastern Nevada, Misses Maggie, Rosa, and Josie, George and Joseph Gooding. The last named is a resident of Fondulac Wis., Miss. Rosa graduated at the State University last month.

Mr. Gooding was Captain of Company A. of the 22d Indiana Regiment and was a member in good standing of the Grand Army of the Republic.

Mr. Jacob Gooding has not been advised whether the remains would be brought to Nevada for burial or not, but was of the opinion that such would be the case.

Here's Paint.

Read the new advertisement of the Porteous Decorative Co. They are the sole agents for W. P. Fuller and Co's, pure prepared paint always just right and ready for use. They have enough on hand to paint the town red or any other color. A complete line of mouldings, window shades and wall paper can be found in stock at any time. Window glass cut to fit and put in at the most reasonable prices.

Artist materials a specialty and in fact all of the novelties of the trade can be furnished on the shortest notice. Estimates given on contracts for houses or store finishing and contracts filled to the perfect satisfaction of anyone desiring their services. The best of workmen employed and the only thoroughly equipped paint store in the city.

Donnels & Steinmetz.

Donnels & Steinmetz, furniture and carpet dealers are up to the times in selection and quality of stock at popular prices. Parties desiring furniture or carpets or a sewing machine will save money by calling at their store in the New Investment building and getting the prices. They buy in quantity and can give their customers the benefit of low rates. A purchaser loses money by sending to California for goods in their line, as their facilities are such that they can more than compete with outside dealers besides one sees the goods before buying. Read their new advertisement in this issue and if any thing is needed in their line they are straightforward men to trade with.

Storey County Swindled.

In repairing the wall of the Storey County Court House a day or two ago it was found that a gross piece of jobbery had been perpetrated on the Co., by the contractors who built the brick walls. The contract called for a 26 inch brick wall, but it has been discovered that a hollow wall was put up, that is two walls of nine inches thick were put up, leaving the two inches of brick out of the center or in other words an eight inch space thus stealing about 25 per cent on the contract. It has always been supposed that Storey County's Court House was one of the most substantial buildings in Virginia, but it turns out that it is one of the feeblest.

An Army of Tramps En-Route.

An army of 15,000 tramps are bound westward. They are now in Kansas and are divided into four divisions following the various lines of railway. They are very troublesome and the people have petitioned the railroads to carry them to the coast. They forage on the country begging clothing, meals and money. The Union Pacific and Missouri Pacific have placed guards on their trains armed with shot-guns. The tramps are following in the wake of the Christian Endeavor excursions and are determined to reach California.

A Gang of Robbers.

A small army of robbers arrived in town yesterday and proceeded at once to ply their various grafts on the streets from begging 10 cents to selling porous plasters and paper ornaments. During the afternoon they pooled their capital and purchased several kegs of beer and held a "high jinks" below the cattle bridge. Last evening Officers Leeper and Logan made a dash into the gang and rounded up one installment of six or eight after a lively fight and after preparing for a second attack and raked in a few more.

Compiling a Handbook.

J. H. Hancock of San Francisco spent the day here yesterday. He is compiling a handbook for the California Associated Cyclist Clubs. He has been through the northern valleys and has also visited Carson and Virginia. He used strong arguments to the Reno Wheelmen endeavoring to persuade them to withdraw from the League of American Wheelmen and join the California club. The boys have taken the matter under advisement.

No Freight Trains Will Run

It is now estimated that it will take fifty trains to carry the Christian Endeavor excursionists from Ogden to San Francisco. It is proposed to run these trains through on the 5th, 6th and 7th inst., and Superintendent Wright of this division has decided to have a clear road and will lay off all freight trains for the three days named. He is determined as far as possible to take no chances of collisions or other accidents and in order to exercise special care, the trains will be held at one station until it is known that the road is clear to the next.

The trains will commence to start out of Ogden on Sunday evening and each hour following, a train will start until it will be a procession of trains from Ogden to San Francisco. The company has also arranged so that the great mass of people can be fed at various stations without too much confusion.

The excursionists will probably return at their pleasure within the prescribed time that their tickets call for and by various roads, so that it will not require the extra facilities to carry them home as is required to transport them across the continent in the limited time provided under the excursion arrangements.

Light up the Town.

There seems to be some misunderstanding regarding the lighting up of the arc lights this evening. The electric company doubtless has good reasons for declining to have them lighted yet in view of the large crowd coming from Virginia, Carson and intermediate towns it would seem the proper thing for the town to put on its best appearance. Nothing impresses a stranger more upon visiting a place than its light and cheery appearance, particularly so on an occasion such as this evening. People go away with a good opinion of the life of a community. On the other hand if everything is dingy and dark it gives a dull and uninviting look to a community and visitors are led to believe that they have struck a dead camp.

It is suggested that an effort be made to-day to adjust any differences that may exist and turn the lights on. The community as a whole should certainly not be blamed for circumstances over which they have no immediate control, and the visitors who are here to enjoy an evening should not be disappointed by a gloomy and cheerless town.

REVIEW.

Rubenstein's Gilt Beer Saram steam beer at the Winslow Always cool and fresh.

Henry Rater will accommodate all comers to-night and furnish the latest fancy and summer drinks.

A second section to passenger train No. 4 last night carried a large delegation of Endeavor excursionists.

Louie Bever is at his post again after an illness of three or four days and is as accommodating as ever.

Charlie Lake will have special inducements for the Fourth of July in the way of fireworks, balloons, etc.

General Powning is steadily improving and it is thought that he will soon be out attending to business as usual.

The Carson High School closing exercises took place last night and were largely attended. An excellent program was presented.

Another California couple took desperate chances and formed a co-partnership yesterday, but as usual there was considerable mystery about the affair.

Thos. McGovern, after a long siege of illness, is again at his post at the Arcade. Tom looks somewhat pulled down, but says he is ready now to go another heat.

Fred Teasland came in from the Mound House last evening and will remain for a day or two visiting his father and brother and shaking hands with Reno friends.

A number of young ladies are going to Reno on the Bryan train Friday evening. We are informed that there will be plenty of room and that all ladies who wish to go will be welcomed.—Appeal.

Complaint is made that the Geiger grade near Virginia is being used as a dump for ground for city garbage, refuse and dead animals and the Storey county officials are asked to look into the matter.

Muller & Stumpf, the Pabst beer agents, are constantly receiving large invoices of this celebrated beer and Pabst malt extract. All orders, no matter in how small quantity, are promptly filled.

The Fourth of July committee is arranging all details for the celebration next Monday and it is believed that everything will go according to program. There will be fun for everybody and from early morn till late in the night will be "one continual round of pleasure."

W. H. McInnis made a careful inspection of the Olinghouse mines and feels quite confident that the outlook is flattering. He brought back some excellent specimens and is fully convinced that when a reasonable depth is reached that the ore will prove more valuable than now anticipated.

Jack Godfrey of the Arcade restaurant has arranged to feed 1,200 Christian Endeavor excursionists on the 6th, 7th and 8th. The first installment of 250 will take breakfast on the morning of the 6th. Mr. Godfrey has arranged to place tables in the Arcade office and bar-room and will be able to seat 200 at a time and proposes to accommodate all comers.

Celebrated for its great leavening strength and healthfulness. Assures the food against all forms of adulteration common to the cheap brands.
